YOUNG MEN.

WHO may be suffering from the effect of youthful follies or indiscretions, will do undertakes and fails to cure.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty,
who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits aropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, the color will be a thin milky hue,
again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration to the genito-urinary or-

Sanguine Republican View of Ohio.

The New York Tribune's Washington special says: Representative McKinley of Ohio was in Washington last Wednesday. Of the political contest in Ohio he said: "The prospects are bright, and I believe the Republicans will not only elect Foraker, but have a majority in the Legislature. Judge Handley is a very brilliant man and will make a brilliant canvasser, but he does not possess the genius to know what to say and what not to say. The consequence is he has not written a line nor spoke a sentence on politics since he was nominated that has not been a blunder. The Democrats are going to be terribly disappointed. They will not get any large proportion of the German vote. I believe nearly all the better class of men who have liberal views on the liquor question will go with us. The Scott law is growing more popular every day. While the law is going to prove satisfactory on the whole to liquor men, it is going to bring to the support of the Republican ticket also a very large proportion of the prohibition vote. Prohibitionists are anxious to get all the votes they can for the prohibitory amendment to the Constitution, and they have sense enough to see the way, too, and that is not to fight a party which enacts the Scott law. I think, too, we are going to gain many votes on the tariff issue, especially among the Germans. Other influences are at work silently in behalf of the Republicans which will probably manifest themselves before our campaign fully opens, a few weeks hence."

Hendricks in the Field.

The New York World's Indianapolis special says: Governor Hendricks, in an interview at Omaha, is reported as saying that Senator Voorhees had no authority to make the statement he had recently that Hendricks is not a candidate for the Presidency. The contradiction created quite a ripple of excitement there. It is taken on all sides as a declaration of hostility to McDonald, and an open war between the Hendricks and McDonald factions seems imminent.

An Improvement Suggested.

The Enterprise says: The cars which our people are now expected to ride in from Reno to San Francisco are said to be a little tough. They have just come in across the plains, and are not only filled with dust, but also with all kinds of filth. It is suggested that the sleeper which comes up with the East-bound train be unbitched at Reno and taken back with the West-bound train as a parlor car. We are informed that this can be done without the least trouble.

On the authority of Mr. John Foley, a member of the Democratic State Central Committee, says the Oakland Tribune, we assert that Governor Stone is satisfied with the tariff rates adopted by Humphries and Carpenter. The Governor says the reductions are as much as ought to be made at this time.

The Republicans made a clean sweep at the recent city election in Boise City, Idaho. Mayor Finny was re-elected by 143 majority. The Republican majority averaged about 75, an increase of 50 votes over last year.

Indianapolis is a good place for the Republican National Convention. The Journal would prefer Reno, but will cheerfully acquiesce in the selection of Indianapolis.

Chas. Crocker has given $10,000 to the Park Commissioners to rebuild the Golden Gate Park Conservatory. "Charley Crocker will save good man."

The Nevada Bank business accounts at $15,586 682 58, as per its last semi-annual statement. This is a much better showing than the First Bank.

Randall asserts that he will go before the caucus for the speakership, and that he is not a candidate, directly or remotely, for any other office.

Gov. Adams has forwarded Candelaria the promised flag pole. But it is not long enough to catch the next persimmon from that section.

Hendricks is in the field. If Sammy will take second place we shall have the old ticket upside down.

General More, the American Consul at Calicut, died last Wednesday night of yellow fever.

New Hampshire would do the fair thing by sending Chandler to the Senate.

Bismarck's days are numbered. The great Chancellor is in very bad health.

THE DANGER OF OVER-EXERCISE.

A Stalwart Man Becomes Weaker Than a Child and Then Recovers his Former Strength.

[Waterloo, N. Y., Observer.]

In these days of rowing giants and athletic heroes fine physical development is more observed than ever before since the time of the Athenian games. A man who shows the elements of physical power is looked up to far more than in the days of our ancestors possibly because there are fewer specimens of well-developed manhood than then. An emissary of this paper met a magnificent specimen of physical power a few days since in the person of Dr. A. W. McNamara, of Waterloo. His muscular, which showed unusual development, were as hard as wood. At his request the writer sought to pinch him in the arms or legs, but found it wholly impossible. A realization of what is meant by an iron man was fully made manifest.

"Have you always been so stalwart is this?" inquired the news gatherer. "Not by any means," was the reply. "When a young man I was always strong and active and felt that I could accomplish anything. This feeling soon passed, however, and on one occasion when I attempted to lift a box which four men found it impossible to move, I succeeded in placing it on the wagon, but two minutes from that time I was unconscious and remained so for hours, and when I recovered consciousness I vomited a large quantity of blood. From that day I began to grow weak and sickly. I believed that I had suffered some internal injury and experienced a general debility, which seemed similar to the effects produced by malaria. My back was very weak. I had no appetite, and at times loathed food. My legs were numb and crickled. My head felt as though it were entirely open at the top and it pained me on the side intensely. In six weeks time I had fallen away from 208 pounds to less than 170. I was in a most wretched condition. I was completely discouraged."

"What did the doctors say about you?" "Almost everything. I consulted no less than six different physicians. They all treated me and none did me any good. At that time I was suffering intensely. I could not sit upright but was obliged to rest in a cramped, uneasy position. I was compelled to urinate every five minutes and I passed over three quarts every day. I was not eating, I was existing."

One night (how well I remember it!) my wife had put the children all in bed when the feeling came over me that I should live but a very short time. My wife and I talked matters all over and I gave the minutest directions as to what she should do after I was gone. I was not in a flighty condition by any means for the doctor, on leaving town the day following, made me good bye, saying he never expected to see me again, for I was suffering with Bright's disease of the kidneys in its last stages. Within the next few days more than twenty friends came to bid me good bye. Among the number was Dr. John L. Clark. He asked me what I had been in the way of medicine. I told him, and then recommended a remedy of which I had heard much, but about which I was very skeptical. I said I was an element of power it certainly was lacking in my case."

"And so you did not try it?" "On the contrary, I did try it and to my surprise it seemed to go to just the spot. Indeed, it was the most palatable thing I had taken into my mouth for months. I relished it."

"And did it cure you?" "Yes, indeed. What was it?" "Warner's Safe Cure."

"A proprietary medicine?" "Of course. What of that? I suppose I once had as great a prejudice against advertise medicines as any one could have. When I was studying medicine at Ann Arbor, Michigan, I used to vow with the rest of the class that we would fight all such remedies at all times. When a man comes down to the last hour, however, and bids his wife and friends good bye, such bigoted prejudices as these all vanish. I can assure you, and any remedy that can cure is gladly welcomed."

"And how have you been since then?" "A well—or better, than before."

"Do you still exert your strength?" "Certainly. But I do not over-exert, as formerly. My strength is increasing every day, and my health is number one. I know that my life was saved by Warner's Safe Cure, and I believe it is the best medicine that was ever compounded by any chemist or physician. I am willing the doctors should swear at me for such a statement if they choose, but I have proven its truth, and am prepared to stand by it."

The above experience should be of great value to all who are suffering. It shows the deceptive nature of this terrible malady: that all symptoms are common to it and that there is but one way by which it can be absolutely avoided.

Senator Rollins has withdrawn from the New Hampshire contest.

An Address From The Conclave Committee.

The following preamble and resolutions have been adopted by the San Francisco Triennial Conclave Committee:

WHEREAS, Gross unfounded misrepresentations have been made relative to the coming conclave, to be held in this city in August next, by individuals at the East, from purely malicious motives, to the effect that extortion will be practiced by those having anything to do with furnishing accommodations to visiting Knights and their families, that ample accommodations cannot be furnished, that Sir Knights will be herded in hallways and other uncomfortable places; and

WHEREAS, It has also been circulated by some parties that the prices of everything purchasable and saleable will be materially advanced during the conclave week, and that the expenses of the trip and sojourn would be more than any Knight could meet; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Triennial Committee be hereby authorized to officially deny the false statements made, and assure Sir Knights wherever dispersed that ample and comfortable accommodations will be provided and furnished all who come as the committee has under its control, outside of the principal hotel, the best and fullest accommodations at regular, reasonable rates, and that there is not now, nor will be, the slightest disposition towards practicing extortion on the part of any citizen of San Francisco, nor has there been such disposition or intent manifested at any time.

With this ranch will be sold four thousand head of stock cattle, now in splendid condition, and a large number of Durham bulls, purchased at a cost of six hundred dollars each. ## How the Strike in Union Ought to be Celebrated.

Now the strike in Union has been made, and the whole matter definitely settled, it behooves the people of Nevada to give some public demonstration in honor of the event. The Carson Appeal submits the following programme which could easily be carried out:

ANOTHER INDIAN SCARE.

Imminent Danger of an Outbreak Up North.

The JOURNAL last evening received word from a reliable source from Cedarville, that the Indians were gathering at Harney and that Major Wells, in command at Fort Bidwell, considered the situation so serious, that he has troops ready to start out at a moment's notice. The JOURNAL's informant thinks the aspect exceedingly warlike.

A Slippery Track and a Delayed Train.

The East-bound overland train of the Central Pacific met with a singular delay Wednesday morning between Verdi and Truckee. Freight train No. 8 was immediately in front of the passenger train and had among other cars one of oil, which leaked badly, flooding the rails with oil, and the overland train, when it reached the grade near Bronec, came to a stand still. The sand-boxes were opened and it was with great difficulty that the train could be moved at all. Finally it was cut in two and each part drew up the incline separately from Bronec to Boca. It took two hours to make the distance of five miles.

Escaped, but Recaptured.

J. A. Davis took French leave of the officers Thursday afternoon while at work in the court house yard. The Sheriff was notified of his departure about twenty minutes after his disappearance, and instituted search immediately. Emmitt finally nabbed him yesterday morning up on the Geiger Grade, and brought him back to the jail. After serving out his 120 days term Mr. Davis will probably be given a few months board at the State Prison for being so pedestrian.

"Hunting for Fish."

A little excitement was created yesterday afternoon in the western part of town by the report that a little 4-year-old boy had been drowned in the English ditch. Vigorous search was at once instituted, and it was not long till the little rooster was found, happy as a clam, in the ditch up to his knees, as he told his excited captors, "hunting for fish."

An Insane Man Killed.

Charley Jenks, an insane man who had been running wild for several weeks down at Pahraagat Valley was killed by a number of settlers in that valley last week. The killing was denounced as a foul murder by many in Lincoln county, as the man was considered entirely inoffensive.

The Carson Prison Footprints.

Professor Joseph Le Conte, writing from Berkeley, Cal., sends to Nature a brief account of the supposed human footprints found in the shale at Carson, and agrees with Professor Marsh and others in attributing them to a large sloth. The so-called human tracks, he writes, occur in several regular alternating series of 15-20. In size they were 18-20 inches long, and 8 inches wide. In shape they are many of them far more curved than the human track, especially in soft mud. The stride is 2 1/2 to 3 feet, and even more. The outward turn of the track is in many cases greater than in human tracks, especially in soft mud. But the most remarkable thing about them on the human theory is the straddle, i. e., the distance between the right and left series. This I found to be eighteen and even nineteen inches, which was fully as great as that of the mammoth tracks. This is probably the greatest objection to the human theory. On the other hand, the great objection to the quadrupedal theory is the apparent singleness of the tracks, and the absence of claw-marks. But it must be remembered that the tracks are deep, and the outlines somewhat obscure, and also that the mammoth tracks, on account of tracking of hind with forefoot, are in most cases, though not always, single.

After careful examination for several days, the conclusion I came to was that the tracks were probably made by a large plantigrade quadruped, most likely a gigantic ground-sloth, such as the Mylodon, which is found in the Quaternary, or the Morوثentium, which is found in the upper Pliocene of Nevada. The apparent singleness, the singular shape, and the large outward turn of the tracks, I attribute to the imperfect tracking of hind and fore feet on the same side, while the absence of claw marks was the result of the clogging of the feet with mud. This view seems to me most probable, but many who have seen the tracks think them human, and I freely admit that there is abundant room for honest difference of opinion. On any theory the tracks are well worthy of scientific attention.

Long Valley Lumbering.

Bragg & Schooling's saw mill, in Long Valley, is running to its full capacity, day and night. They have six teams employed handling lumber from the mill to Oneida, the terminus of the N. & O. track. They have been landing in Reno on an average six car loads of lumber a day for a month, and have just caught up with the lumber left over from last Summer's run. Next week they will commence moving that which has accumulated since the Spring opened, and do not expect to catch up with the mill before the last of September. Their lumber is stacked in Reno and sold to dealers at wholesale.

Bound to do Business.

Jerry Schooling who has been running the Nevada & Oregon short-line railroad less than a month has already issued over 200 passes to parties riding over the road between Reno and Oneida, and would probably have issued more had there been more applicants. There is nothing small about Jerry's railroad. He gives every passenger the privilege to buy a ticket and pay for it, or to apply for and receive a pass. He never wastes time talking with a man about a small matter like that.

Scientists Will Differ.

Leibog, the chemist, in an article on beer, held that the most nutritious and harmless beer was that which held its foam the longest. George Becker, however, differs with the eminent chemist. He says he has noticed that the foam of the best beer most quickly disappears—down the throats of his customers.

Home Again.

There was a big load of passengers from the west yesterday morning. Most of them were returning Monterey excursionists. The Virginia train was crowded. Although presenting a somewhat careworn and dusty appearance all say they had a splendid time.

They Want a Settlement.]

Lyon county has commenced suit for a settlement of accounts with Esmeralda county, growing out of the segregation scheme. The case will come up for hearing in the District Court at Hawthorne on the 17th instant.

He is Here.

The artist who is to assist Nick Hamersmith, arrived from San Francisco yesterday morning and will hereafter be found in charge of one of the chairs in Nick's shop, at the Wine House.

The French "Fourth."

Frenchmen everywhere will celebrate this day, the anniversary of the fall of the Bastille. French residents of San Francisco have made preparations for celebrating the event in grand style.

Coming.

The Neil Burgess Theatrical Company will appear in Reno Wednesday evening, August 1. The company is now playing to full houses at the Baldwin Theater, San Francisco.

Accident on the C. P.

The east-bound freight train which left Reno at 7 o'clock Thursday evening met with a serious accident six miles this side of Wadsworth. The train, it appears, had parted, unknown to train men, and when the engineer slackened up to pull in on the six-mile siding, the rear section ran into the train with sufficient force to effectually demolish several cars including a refrigerator containing a valuable cargo. Fortunately no one was seriously injured. Mrs. Johnson, of Wadsworth, and her little girl, were the only passengers. The child escaped uninjured, but the mother received several slight bruises about the face and neck. The conductor, Dan Seever, had his right arm badly twisted and bruised but the doctor thinks he is not seriously injured. A brakeman by the name of Place received the worst injury of any; he was struck on the chin with some sharp instrument which cut his lip through to the bone, requiring several stitches to bring it into place again. Owing to the grade the sections had not separated to any great distance or the damage certainly would have been much more serious. The wreck was cleared in time to let the west-bound express pass on time.

Just in Time.

Pierre Humbert, Sr., the gentleman who built the works on the Steamboat quicksilver mine some years ago, is in town. He stopped off here to take a look at the property, learning for the first time that the title was in dispute or that there was an incumbrance upon it. His agent who had the property in charge, it seems, failed to notify Mr. Humbert of the condition of affairs. The mine was levied upon and sold under execution and the time for redemption within one day of expiration when Mr. Humbert by accident drops in upon the scene.
